Research in Progress

- The Changing Landscape of Plastic Waste Trade and Its Impact on the Environment and Waste Management (with Thomas L. Marsh)
  Uses the staggered-adoption synthetic difference-in-differences estimator with satellite-derived $PM_{2.5}$ measurements at waste-site locations to estimate how China's 2018 National Sword policy and the resulting cascading trade reallocation affected air pollution.
- Spillover Effects of Trade Policies in the Agri-Food Global Value Chain (with Jeff Luckstead)
  Uses a GVC-augmented structural gravity model on bilateral value-added data for 190 countries (2000–2017) to identify how the depth of a conduit country's trade-agreement network drives upstream value-added integration in agri-food supply chains.

- Social Costs of Microplastics in Agricultural Production (Advisor: Thomas L. Marsh)
  Uses a dynamic optimization model with an embedded damage function to estimate the long-run social costs of microplastic accumulation from agricultural plastic mulch.
